

Dustin lives in San Francisco with his beautiful wife, Maggie, and his growing family.

He is really bad at biographies and would not say he loves writing about himself in third-person.

He wrote this book for his six-month old son, and hopes you love reading it as much as he loved writing it.

Riley the Robot, a simple but not simplistic tale of a sleepy child and a lonely robot.

The robot has a few things to share, so sit down, settle in, and enjoy!
